REVISED PLAN FOR SCHOOLS IN COUNTY MAKES FEW CHANGES

The "revised county plan for school development" which Adams County will submit to the state will, in general, follow exactly the same lines as the situation currently existing in the county.

That seemed assured following Monday evening's meeting of the county school board held at the office of the county superintendent in the Court House.

Called upon by law to submit a revised "county plan" each five years, the members of the board went over the school situation as it exists today in the county, with seven joint systems, and several districts not parts of jointures.

Final Okay Next Month

After a discussion that lasted for more than two hours in which the board reviewed each jointure separately, checked its school population and potentials, the board decided tentatively to submit a plan which would take into consideration changes made during the last five years, but could make very few recommendations for any other changes.

The detailed paper work for the plan will be prepared during the coming month by Assistant County Superintendent Charles I. Raffensperger; Robert Keck of the state Department of Public Instruction and Richard C. Lighter, county supervisor of agricultural education.

Next month, with the complete details before them, the board will give its approval to the plan, according to its unofficial decision Monday night.

Would Enlarge Upper Adams

The new plan, taking into consideration the changes made in the last five years, marks a number of revisions from the original county plan submitted in 1948. As examples, the county board pointed out, part of Mt. Joy has joined Gettysburg, Franklin has joined Gettysburg on the secondary level, part of Mt. Pleasant has joined Littlestown, and so on through the jointures.

In the tentative revised plan Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown are assigned to Littlestown jointure to "give them a home" in case the districts decide at some date to join

WILL ENFORCE STATE RULES ON NURSING HOMES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Welfare Department warned today that unlicensed boarding homes for the aged and convalescent and nursing establishments will face injunction action unless they conform to minimum standards set by the commission.

Alan D. Reynolds, welfare secretary, ordered the crackdown on delinquent operators, declaring they have been given "ample time to put their establishments in order."

Provision for Welfare Department enactment of measures setting living standards in institutions for the aged was made by the 1953 General Assembly.

"It is a matter of common decency for these owners to provide acceptable standards of living for the aged, as required by law," Reynolds said in a statement.

Ira J. Mills, director of the department's Bureau of Homes and Hospitals, which enforces laws protecting the aged, said that several injunctions already are pending against establishments not conforming to regulations.

Have Been Tolerant"

"We have been tolerant and in most cases have given operators ample time to meet our requirements when they showed any inclination to do so," said Mills.

Injunctions will be asked against any other institutions "who refuse to cooperate," Mills warned.

Meanwhile, Gov. John S. Fine named an inter-departmental committee, consisting of four cabinet members, to coordinate efforts of the commonwealth to meet problems of the aged.

The committee, which will meet here on April 5, includes Welfare Secretary Reynolds, Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, public assistance secretary; Dr. Russell E. Teague, health secretary; and David M. Walker, secretary of labor and industry.

ODM OUSTS ONE EMPLOYEE AS SECURITY RISK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "highly sensitive" Office of Defense Mobilization, engaged in secret blueprinting for possible war in the future, says it has fired one man for questionable loyalty since January.

John D. Young, executive officer, told a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public today that the dismissed employee was "a security risk" in which a question of loyalty was involved.

Young added the employee was not a Communist party member but said "we don't know whether he is a Communist."

In similar budget hearings, the General Services Administration said its security program last year resulted in separation of a policy numbers collector, fighters and sexual deviates, but no Communists.

168 Are Discharged

GSA, the government housekeeping agency, reported that 168 of its 27,607 employees were fired or quit under the security program last year, and that 10 of these involved some question of loyalty.

Baron Shacklette, GSA's director of compliance, said that 3 of the 10 were fired, 6 resigned and 1 was let go in a reduction in force after he was cited.

"I don't know that any one individual was a member of the Communist party," he said.

The Eisenhower administration has said questions of loyalty existed in more than 2,400 of its "security risk" cases.

The ODM director, Arthur S. Flemming, said all his agency's employees are given a complete investigation because "we feel there is too much of a highly sensitive nature circulating around ODM to take a chance."

Flemming described the recently reorganized ODM as the key planning center for American mobilization in event of war. He said it works closely with the National Security Council, the top strategic planning body, of which he is a member.

As for GSA, Shacklette said "at the end of December we had . . . 563 individuals in our agency in connection with whom we had received allegations which would come under the President's executive order as constituting a security risk. Of that number, 144 involved loyalty allegations."

Littlestown*LARGE CROWD FOR LAST UNION SERVICE SUNDAY

A large congregation attended the final service in the winter series of union vesper services held on Sunday evening in St. John's Lutheran Church. The worship opened with a hymn by the congregation and the invocation was given by the Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of the host church, who was in charge. Psalm 66 was read responsively and the Doxology was sung. The Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed Church, read the Scripture and presented the sermon on the book of "Revelation." In his message, the Rev. Mr. Reynolds said that "the major theme of this book contains words of encouragement and comfort for the people of suffering." An anthem was sung by the Senior Choir of St. John's Church, accompanied by Mrs. Jay D. Basehoar, church organist, who presided at the console throughout the service. The Rev. Mr. Karns offered prayer, made the announcements, received the offering and pronounced the benediction at the close of the service.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Cannon To Shoot 30 Miles: There is being built at the Scott works of the Reading Iron Company a gun which may revolutionize the gun making industry of the world. It is a six inch gun, 313 inches long, weighs about 20,000 pounds, and over 21 miles of wire is used in winding it. It has a service velocity of 3,500 feet per second, with a battering charge that will attain the great velocity of 3,900 ft. per second. The maximum pressure is 55,000 pounds per square inch. It has a range of thirty miles at an elevation of forty-five degrees. The 16-inch gun of this type has a range of 59 miles, or Philadelphia to Reading.

A five-inch gun, when tested, fully came up to expectations of the inventor. A ten-inch Brown wire gun was first fired at the Sandy Hook proving grounds and the shots surprised in velocity and striking energy of the present built-up types of guns now in the possession of the government.

West Point Cadets Will Be Here: The first-class cadets of the military academy at West Point numbering 195, accompanied by five instructors, will arrive in Gettysburg on April 25th for two days' instruction in strategy and maneuvers on the battlefield. At least such orders have been issued. About a month later the class will go to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis and remain for two weeks.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

UNHEATED MINDS

Warmth is something that the Creator gave to this earth. His sun warms all life and makes life possible. A cold home is an unhealthy home. People, who have the means to do so, go to warm climates during the cold months where they have homes. But no matter how warm people keep their bodies, there are those whose minds somehow remain unheated, chilling all those with whom they come in contact!

It is a wonderful thing to have a warm mind, for this means that there is kindness there. Also consideration for others, sympathy, understanding, friendliness, and appreciation for all that is good and inspiring in life. The warm mind is instantly felt on contact with it. Perhaps that is where we got the familiar phrase: "Love at first sight!"

We speak of attractive personalities, and how we take to such at once, but it's the warm mind that has been heated by the sun that is dispensable, freely offered, and always welcomed. We speak of people who are lovable. The minds of such are heated with the warm rays of Heaven itself!

We readily forgive and forget so much in a person that is unattractive, the moment that we feel the warmth of that one's interest in us. Enthusiasm never gushes from a cold, unheated mind. Ideas are born there. All creative minds are heated with hope, faith, and rare courage. The influence of such minds is endless. There is warmth in every word that they have left for all mankind.

With so much in the world to make us happy, and with so much from which to choose as fuel to the mind, there should be none among us with an unheated mind. Books, especially, give warmth to the mind. Keep plenty of them near you!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Continuity"

MY COUNTRY

I'd like to give my country all my best:

To feel somehow that I have earned her smile;

That she has found my little life worth while;

That I have never failed her in the test;

Never held self above her interest

Or given ear to any traitor's guile,

But have been steadfast to the farthest mile

And earned the right to sleep upon her breast.

Just as a mother smiles upon her son

Who has not failed her teachings, and is glad

When home he comes with all his victories won

That such a man was once her little lad.

I hope my country to the end may be

Happy to own that she has mothered me.

Hall And Mitchell Discuss Issues In Press Interview

By BOB SUNDY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Shaking hands in the glare of flash bulbs, the national chairmen of America's two major political parties greeted each other on a first-name basis last night.

"Hello, Steve," said Republican Leonard W. Hall cheerfully as he met his oft-time verbal opponent at an unusual joint press conference.

"Hi, Len," replied Democrat Stephen A. Mitchell with a smile.

Guests At Meeting

The press conference preceded a dinner meeting of Philadelphia's Committee of Seventy, a nonpartisan reform group which calls itself a "watchdog of politics" here. Hall and Mitchell were guest speakers.

"This press conference is just for your benefit," Mitchell told newsmen before the dinner. "We'll try not to get into any partisan debate."

Can't Evade Politics

They tried but didn't entirely succeed. These were their answers to reporters' questions on controversial subjects, starting with the current dispute involving Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis):

Hall: "I agree with Senators Knowland and Ferguson when they say McCarthy should step down as chairman of his investigating committee during forthcoming hearings on the Cohn-Army question."

Mitchell: "McCarthy, fortunately, isn't our problem. I'm just glad he's not a Democrat."

Two Points Of View

What comment have you on the nation's economy?

Mitchell: "It's obvious the economy is suffering. Unemployment has risen and there are conditions and problems which require definite action."

Hall: "I recall that in 1950, during the previous administration, when unemployment reached a total of 4,700,000, Democrats were still calling that prosperity."

Reynolds himself sat in jail on embezzlement charges after a series of fast-breaking developments.

No Personal Charges

Democrats, who show no signs of defection in support of Chavez, immediately attacked the Cordon proposal.

Hennings told the Senate that in adopting such an amendment, it would be saying in effect that "nobody in New Mexico, from the governor on down, was elected . . . because they don't know how to run their elections."

He turned over $5,000 to a three-man depositors committee yesterday, and it was put in a Clayton bank in the names of the three committee members pending final accounting.

The first official checkup of Reynolds' books to find out just how much money was on deposit in the Merchants Exchange was scheduled to begin today in Clayton, the county seat where the banker was brought to jail yesterday.

In their dinner speeches, Hall and Mitchell both urged greater participation in government by all citizens.

1954 RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

DEMOCRATS IN CHAVEZ DEBATE SCENT VICTORY

BY JOHN KAMPS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Scentsing victory. Senate Democrats today brushed aside a Republican offer to water down the political effect of a resolution to oust Sen. Chavez (D-N.M.) from the seat he has held since 1935.

Party lines held firm yesterday as the Senate began debating a resolution to cancel out the 1952 New Mexico senatorial election in which Chavez defeated Republican Patrick J. Hurley, a former secretary of war, by about 5,000 votes. The issue may come to a vote late today.

The resolution is based on the finding of a Republican majority of the Senate elections subcommittee that there were so many voting irregularities in the 1952 election it would be impossible to pick the legal winner. Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), the subcommittee's one-man minority, has vigorously dissented from this opinion.

The Air Force position, he said, is that "given enough factual data" every "flying saucer" reported over the last six years could be explained in natural, earthly, nonsensical terms.

Should the Senate void the results of the Chavez-Hurley contest, Republican Gov. Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico would be expected to name a Republican replacement for Chavez. This would then give the Republicans a one-vote edge.

But Sen. Cordon (R-Ore.) proposed during yesterday's debate that the resolution be altered to recommend filling the vacancy by special election. Meanwhile, the Republicans and Democrats would each hold 47 Senate seats.

No Personal Charges

Democrats, who show no signs of defection in support of Chavez, immediately attacked the Cordon proposal.

Hennings told the Senate that in adopting such an amendment, it would be saying in effect that "nobody in New Mexico, from the governor on down, was elected . . . because they don't know how to run their elections."

STAN MUSIAL IS GETTING FAST START AT BAT

by BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Stan Musial, who failed to win his seventh National League batting championship last year only because he got off to a slow start, apparently is aiming to begin with a bang this season.

The slugging St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder slammed a home run, a triple and a single and batted in seven runs yesterday as the Redbirds walloped the Philadelphia Phillies 9-3 for their eighth victory in 14 exhibition games.

He batted .336 in 1953 to finish third behind Brooklyn's Carl Furillo and teammate Red Schoendienst but if it wasn't for his early season slump which left him with a .247 average after the first two months he conceivably could have wound up far in front.

Third Home Run

Yesterday's game was a close one until Musial drove relief pitcher Duke Marcelli's second pitch out of the park with two mates aboard in the fourth inning. It was his third home run of the spring.

Schoendienst, too, had his hand in the scoring, hitting a triple and a single and knocking in one of the tallies. Lefty Harvey Haddix was the winning pitcher and rookie Bob Greenwood the loser.

Elsewhere, the question of "Who's on first?" For the Boston Red Sox may soon be answered if Dick Gernert keeps up his present pace.

Gernert socked two home runs, the second a game-winning one, as the Red Sox edged the Milwaukee Braves 4-3.

Yanks Chase Kellner

The Cincinnati Redlegs roughed up right-hander Dick Donovan for three hits and three runs in the second inning and defeated the Detroit Tigers 4-3. The victory was a costly one, however, as shortstop Roy McMillan suffered a severe cut on his right instep requiring 22 stitches to close. He is expected to be back in uniform in five days, but may not see action for two weeks.

The New York Yankees, seemingly back in form, knocked out southpaw Alex Kellner in the fifth inning and went on to drub the Philadelphia Athletics 12-6. Rookies Bob Cerv and Bill Skowron led the champions' attack with four hits apiece.

A team of mixed Brooklyn regulars and rookies pushed over a run in the ninth inning to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2. Sandy Amorus, the International League's leading batter in 1953, singled home Jim Baxes with the winning run.

PHILS BITTER OVER FAILURE OF ATTEMPTS TO TRADE IN LOOP

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies front office is bitter about the reception its trade offers get from other National League clubs.

A club spokesman, who declined use of his name but said he was speaking for Phillips, owner Bob Carpenter, commented the club's top brass came to a boil most recently over the deal which sent shortstop Roy Smalley to the Milwaukee Braves and righthander Dick Cole to the Chicago Cubs.

"I wouldn't want to say that we are being blotted out purposefully," the Phillips spokesman said, "or that there is any collusion against us, but take some of our experiences."

Cites An Example

"The deal between the Braves and the Cubs is an example. Last winter we offered one of our top hurlers, a regular starter in the 1953 season, for Smalley and never got to first base."

"Yet Wid Mathews (the Cubs General manager) called (Braves General Manager) John Quinn and made a deal for Cole. The Cubs swapped Smalley for this young righthanded pitcher who has done nothing for the Braves in three years."

"This was only one of several deals we tried to work out with New York, Brooklyn, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago and Pittsburgh. Our only success was with the Pilots and we paid Branch Rickey $70,000 for Murry Dickson, not only for our own good but to keep him off the trade market."

Balked In Other Attempts

"We tried to get Bobby Thomson from the Giants but Leo Durocher demanded Curt Simmons or another southpaw of equal ability—which we don't have."

"We attempted to get Gus Bell from Cincinnati and agreed to give Gabe Paul our top minor league pitching prospect and two other regular hurlers, as well as a big bundle of cash. Paul demanded one of our very best hurlers and we included him. We thought the deal was sealed. Then suddenly it was no go. Paul's excuse was 'I'm afraid of what our fans will say.'

"During the winter we made every effort to get Solly Hemus from the Cardinals. (New York General Manager) George Weiss called us on the phone and offered to sell us Vic Raschi for $25,000 and two players whom we would send to Kansas City on option."

Sure Looks Funny

"We told Weiss to call Milwaukee, that we were trying to get rid of two pitchers ourselves in a deal with St. Louis. Weiss was smart enough to call St. Louis immediately to sell them Raschi—and I'll bet they didn't get him for $25,000. The result was that St. Louis did not need pitchers and we did not get Hemus."

The Phillies spokesman shook his head.

"Only a few days ago Bob (Carpenter) offered big sums of money for Don Hoak, Billy Cox and Bob Morgan of Brooklyn, but Buzzie Eavasi merely smiled and asked for Richie Ashburn. That, of course was out of the question."

It Sure Looks Funny

"I sure looks funny to me."

YOUTH MUST BE SERVED

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Alpha Braze of the Cardinals, 39, a southpaw pitcher, is the oldest player listed in the National League. But he denies it. Says Braze: "I won't mention any names but there are guys listed on rosters at 34 and 35 who are a lot older than I."

Hamp Coleman, rookie pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, is a nephew of Taft Wright, former American League outfielder.

STATE HOSPITAL AT SHAMOKIN IS BEING PROBED

HARRISBURG (P)—Otto F. Messner, secretary of revenue, said today state police have been assigned to make "a comprehensive investigation" of operations at the Shamokin State Hospital.

He said the state police were sent into the hospital in the wake of reports of inaccuracies in financial statements of "uncollectible" bills by patients but that the inquiry will include all operations of the hospital.

At the same time Messner told a reporter:

"A preliminary report leads me to believe that it's nothing serious—that it is a bookkeeping matter."

No Comment From Wilhelm

But, Messner added: "We will proceed against any one found to be operating in variance with the law. I don't care what the ax falls."

Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, declined comment on the situation. A spokesman for Gov. John S. Fine said the matter was entirely in Messner's hands.

The Philadelphia Bulletin said in its Sunday editions that in 1953-53 it cost the state $714,000 to operate the Shamokin hospital, one of 10 state-owned medical and surgical hospitals in the hard and soft coal regions. The newspaper said $233,000 was collected from patients, leaving $481,000 to be paid out of state tax funds.

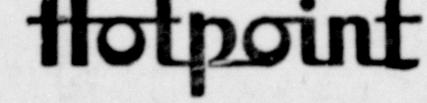

The newspaper also said Victor I. Carter, revenue agent at Shamokin, listed 67 accounts as uncollectible because he was unable to find former patients or their families but that Bulletin reporters found 58 of the 67. Carter declined comment.

"That's a bad thing," Messner said. "I imagine that was done as a bookkeeping procedure for small uncollectible debts."

Messner said that it would cost the commonwealth four to five times as much as a small debt is worth if it were to resort to legal proceedings to force collections.

"It's like getting blood out of a turnip," he commented, in pointing out that economic conditions in the coal regions have made many residents poor debt risks.

Asked if the same situation prevailed at the other nine state-owned hospitals, Messner replied: "I know of nothing at all in this respect at the other hospitals."

JOINT SCHOOLS GET APPROVAL OF HIGH COURT

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The legal right of school districts to set up joint schools has been upheld by Pennsylvania's Supreme Court.

In a unanimous decision of statewide importance, the high tribunal yesterday upheld the right of six school districts in Montgomery County to form the North Penn Joint School Authority for the purpose of operating a school in Lansdale.

In upholding the plan, Justice T. McKeen Chidsey wrote that "the paramount objective of the State Legislature in authorizing the consolidation and establishment of joint schools was to provide a more efficient and less expensive education for the students."

Appeals from the school district plan were brought by taxpayers of the boroughs of Hatfield, Lansdale and North Wales. The school districts of these three boroughs had joined with Montgomery, Hatfield Townships and the Line Lexington independent school district to form the joint school. Since the case went to the Supreme Court Upper Gwynedd has applied for admission to the jointure and there are reports that Towamencin will seek to join.

The action to upset the school district's agreement to set up the joint school was predicated on the alleged unconstitutionality of the plan.

The high tribunal, however, agreed with the Montgomery County Common Pleas Court that the plan was entirely legal and enforceable and that it does not deprive future school directors of the right to exercise their discretion in the management of school affairs.

The opinion went on:

"We deem it immaterial that the jointure may be or is a first step in a merger of the school districts as averred in one of the complaints. There is nothing in the school code to prevent subsequent merger of school districts after their creation of a joint school."

"...there was embodied in the agreement every prerequisite for the creation of a joint school. There is nothing in the agreement which imports any intention to form a merger or a step toward a merger. Obviously an agreement exclusively concerned with secondary education does not cover the entire teaching field of a school district."

"It establishes an entity within the broader powers and duties of the school districts which respectively retain their separate identities. In a merger, the school districts party thereto surrender and lose their separate identities."

"School districts are amenable to a court of equity by way of injunction when their acts trans-

Stewardesses Win Fight With Airlines

NEW YORK (P)—American Airlines stewardesses, outraged by the idea they are unfit for duty after age 32, have won a temporary victory over the company's age policy.

Late last year American announced its stewardesses would be grounded after they reach 32. Stewardesses should be attractive, the company said, and young ones were more likely to qualify in this regard.

The announcement brought howls of protest from stewardesses who had reached or were approaching the age limit. Yesterday the company announced it would make a joint study of the subject with the Air Line Stewards and Stewardesses Assn. In the meantime, stewardesses hired before last Dec. 1, which includes all those bordering 32 years, would continue to fly "without age limitation."

However, the company said, all those hired since Dec. 1 can expect to be grounded when they reach 32.

tricts party thereto surrender and lose their separate identities."

"School districts are amenable to a court of equity by way of injunction when their acts trans-their powers. However, we have never questioned the policies of school directors where the board acts within the scope of its statutory authority and good faith."

The decision also called unfounded the taxpayers' objection that the jointure contract was unenforceable because its beginning and ending dates were indefinite.

"We believe it is readily discernible that the jointure school was to commence simultaneously with the execution of the agreement..."

The opinion stated. "The fact that there is a provision for withdrawal by any school district 20 years after the completion of the Lansdale improvements indicates that the contract is thereafter no longer binding and thus established a definite duration, subject to voluntary renewal."

Chidsey added that since the jointure will not be perpetual it follows that the freedom of action of future (school) boards is not improperly encroached upon for they have the power at the end of the period named in the agreement to continue or discontinue membership in the joint school."

The opinion noted also that "the agreement might have been couched in more explicit language but it is sufficiently plain and unambiguous for its interpretation to be for the court, and we are satisfied that the lower court correctly construed it and upheld its validity."

Tosses Baby To Safety And Dies

PHILADELPHIA (P)—A young mother, who dropped her 3-year-old son to safety from a second floor window, burned to death last night in a fire that destroyed her North Philadelphia home.

Mrs. Marion Jarimucu, 24, screamed to attract patrons of a nearby tavern. With the flames licking at her body, she dropped her young son, Andrew, into the arms of two men. Then she disappeared into a cloud of smoke, apparently trying to rescue her mother.

Mrs. Jarimucu was pronounced dead upon arrival at Hahnemann Hospital. The boy was treated for burns of the head and hands. The victim's mother, Mrs. Anna Jecyshyn, was rescued by a neighbor. She was uninjured.

McCarthy Committee Tries Again For Special Counsel

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate investigations subcommittee meets today for another try at finding a special counsel for its investigation of the bitter fight between its chairman, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), and the Army.

William J. Jameson, president of the American Bar Assn. (ABA), yesterday rejected the hot-spot post on grounds the ABA Board of Directors believed it would not be appropriate for him to serve. He is a Republican from Billings, Mont.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) told newsmen the selection of someone else would have priority at today's closed subcommittee session.

Mundt To Preside

Mundt will preside at the public hearings planned. McCarthy having stepped aside to that extent. The South Dakotan said there might also be discussion today of the touchy matter of ground rules for the inquiry into charges and countercharges by McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Stevens and their aides.

McCarthy has announced he plans to refrain from voting on any final conclusions the subcommittee may make, but he has said he will insist on the right to cross-examine witnesses and will permit Army representatives to question him when he testifies.

He said late yesterday he will ask that one of the witnesses be H. Struve Hensel, newly named assistant secretary of defense.

To Quiz Hensel

He said he wants to ask Hensel, former general counsel to the Defense Department, why the Army released a report alleging pressures from the subcommittee for special favors for Pvt. G. David Schine. Schine is a rich New Yorker who was an unpaid member of the subcommittee staff until he was drafted last fall.

McCarthy and Roy Cohn, the subcommittee's chief counsel, have accused Secretary Stevens and John G. Adams, an Army lawyer, of trying to use Schine "as a hostage" to force the subcommittee to abandon its investigations of the Army. McCarthy and Cohn called it "blackmail." Stevens retorted that was "fantastic."

The whole row was an indirect outgrowth of McCarthy's inquiry into what he has termed "coddling of Communists" within the Army, and Stevens' assertion that during the probe an Army general was abused by McCarthy.

Late yesterday, the Army dis-

Inventor Says Java Urn Is Better 8 Ways

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — "Women" the man says, "know very little about coffee or coffeemaking. So, I'll tell you."

Robert T. Cameron, retired Knoxville lawyer who keeps bachelor quarters, has been working on a coffee pot for five years. It's patented with eight claims to special features. It brews coffee in any of the popular ways—percolator, drip or pot—all in the same container.

Don't boil it hard he urges. That brings out bad taste in a substance called caffetannin and bolls off the good taste with the aromatic oil.

"That's the heavenly aroma you smell in some kitchens when coffee is being made, and that makes your disappointment greater when the cup handed you holds a comparatively tasteless brew," he says.

Cameron's coffee pot, he says, keeps the caffeine and oils in the brew and leaves the caffetannin in the grounds.

closed it has tightened up its lines against possible infiltration by subversives. A new directive, among other steps, requires all commissioned and warrant officers to sign fresh loyalty certificates.

McCarthy's suggestion that all witnesses in the hearings, including himself, should submit to lie detector tests drew sharp comment last night from Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), a subcommittee member.

"A lot of poppycock," Potter said of the proposal when he was asked about it in a transcribed MBS radio interview.

3-Ring Circus

He said it would "establish the precedent of a three-ring circus" at congressional hearings. And, he said, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has voiced doubt of the value of a lie detector test, and most courts reject its findings for use as evidence.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, said yesterday he hoped McCarthy would surrender the right to question witnesses and step completely to the sidelines in the inquiry, except to serve as a witness. But Knowland said the subcommittee would have to decide for itself how far McCarthy should participate in the hearings.

SENIORITY GAVE SEN. McCARTHY CHAIRMANSHIP

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy reached his present position of power—chairman of a Senate subcommittee investigating Communists in the government—by sticking around.

Don't boil it hard he urges. That brings out bad taste in a substance called caffetannin and bolls off the good taste with the aromatic oil.

Canadian Fish School Offsets Jap Rivalry

VANCOUVER, B. C. (CP)—British Columbia University's new fisheries director, Dr. W. A. Clemens, says he will recommend special course for fishermen to help Canada meet the growing competition from Japan in world markets.

The extension service courses would be designed to teach the latest techniques and devices in fish detection and navigation.

Dr. Clemens said the Japanese government established the Tokyo Fisheries University to train fishermen. He said 500 are enrolled, and 100 instructors are training them in detection, navigation, radar and other aspects of the technological era.

UNPOPULARITY NOT IMPORTANT ADLAI STATES

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson cites as dangerous what he calls the "growth in popularity of unreason and anti-intellectualism."

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate told Princeton University seniors last night they should not fear taking unpopular positions.

"All progress," he said at a dinner given by the Princeton senior class, "has resulted from people who took unpopular positions."

Earlier in the day, in Trenton, he decried a recommendation by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that lie detector tests be given to all persons involved in the senator's controversy with the Army.

"We have reached a lamentable state," he declared, "if we have to rely on lie detector tests for responsible public officials."

ARMY TIGHTENS LINES AGAINST SUBVERSIVES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has tightened its lines against possible infiltration by subversives.

It has issued a new order requiring all commissioned and warrant officers to sign fresh loyalty certificates and setting up machinery designed to prevent delays in handling cases of officers who either refuse to sign these documents or plead protection of the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions it asks.

The new directive, disclosed by the Army yesterday, was issued March 11 under the signature of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff.

Fine Idea, Says McCarthy

It states at one point that Secretary of the Army Stevens "does not consider it consistent" with national security to keep in military service anyone who refuses to say whether he has been a member of the Communist party or any subversive group.

There was no doubt that new order grew out of the case of Maj. Irving Peress, a New York dentist who was promoted and honorably discharged over the protest of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), who said Peress was a "Fifth Amendment Communist" and should be court-martialed. Peress, who refused under oath to testify on alleged Communist connections, later said in a public statement that McCarthy's charges were "nonsense."

Told of the new order, McCarthy commented to newsmen that in general it "sounds like a fine idea," but he said he wants to study it before saying more.

ANCIENT ACCOUNT CLOSED

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Frank Dahle surprised Alexian Brothers hospital by offering to pay for a year's treatment given him 48 years ago.

Unknown Thousands Of Japs Are Buried In Honeycombed Caves Underneath Iwo Jima

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

IWO JIMA (AP)—Unknown thousands of Japanese soldiers lie buried in honeycombed caves beneath Iwo Jima while American Marines ironically practice on the nine-year-old battlefield to defend Japan.

An Air Force chaplain who has studied the fantastic underground defenses said, "I've seen at least 5,000 bodies."

A Marine engineer said, "There may be 10,000 bodies here. We all know there were 20,000 Japanese here and only a handful got off. It stands to reason the rest are still down in the caves."

The bodies are not buried. They rest where the men died or were carried.

Seal Off Caves

The caves have been placed off limits by the military. However, many bodies have been uncovered accidentally by demolition squads exploding old ammunition and sealing off caves for maneuvers by the 3rd Marine Division—part of the American force committed to the defense of Japan.

Marine Maj. Roland M. Daly of Spokane, Wash., reported sealing off caves, one with 600 bodies and the second with up to 1,400. Although his estimates were hasty and probably high, demolition men report finding some bodies in almost every big cave.

The caves are littered with old and dangerous ammunition and explosives.

Chaplain Capt. George S. Bieber, Williamsburg, Pa., has made an extensive study of the underground positions since he came to the island in October 1953. He has mapped 18 fantastic underground honeycombs scattered over the five-mile-long island. He has made no effort to map the hundreds of smaller caves.

He is confident he is on the track of the general's cave, last command post of Lt. Gen. Tadamichi Kuribayashi, who defended the island to the death. The general's fate has never been conclusively proved. With him may be documents detailing the full grim picture of the underground defense of Levittown.

The request was made yesterday by court-appointed defense counsel, William M. Powell and William Haefner. They said they had not been allowed funds to make their own investigation and needed access to the confession to properly defend Capps.

They asked also to see other police evidence in the slaying that took place early month.

Will Investigate Sites For Hospital

HARRISBURG (AP)—Four members of the board of the General State Authority will investigate and report on a proper location of the proposed new state mental hospital in Delaware County.

Named to the committee yesterday were Sens. Rowland B. Mahany (R-Crawford) and John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland), House Speaker Charles C. Smith (R-Philadelphia) and Frank C. Hilton, secretary of property and supplies.

A group of Delaware County residents filed a suit in Dauphin County court last Friday to halt state officials from purchasing land for the hospital at a site near Chadds Ford.

Construction of the institution in Delaware County was approved by the 1953 General Assembly.

Defense Asks To See Confession

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Bucks County Judge Edwin H. Satterwhite is considering a request that defense attorneys be allowed to see the alleged confession of George L. Capps, 22, to the slaying of his 15-year-old neighbor, Martha Gibbons of Levittown.

The request was made yesterday by court-appointed defense counsel, William M. Powell and William Haefner. They said they had not been allowed funds to make their own investigation and needed access to the confession to properly defend Capps.

They asked also to see other police evidence in the slaying that took place early month.

benefit rummage sale held by the club. The income from the sale, $380, was given to the auxiliary for the dishwasher fund. Other donations to the dishwasher fund were received from Mrs. Ralph Gresh, Mrs. Albert Cardenti and Mrs. Annie Mishler.

Walter Dillon, administrator of the hospital, told of the new physical therapy department established at the hospital. He asked suggestions toward the observance of National Hospital Week in May in addition to the usual "open house" held by the local hospital to mark the occasion.

Heard C-D Director

Burgess William G. Weaver, speaking as director of Civil Defense for Adams County, called for additional volunteers to man the spotter stations in the county. Nationally, he said, Civil Defense is hampered by "five major apathies." He listed them as "laziness, wishful thinking, shrugging off the danger of atomic attack, belief that the military can halt enemy bombers before they reach this country and a belief that 'it can't happen here.'

Need for volunteers for the ground observer corps is paramount, Weaver said. "We cannot depend entirely on radar. Enemy planes, by flying close to the ground, can avoid radar detection entirely. Only properly manned spotter posts throughout the nation can provide the information needed to detect and halt enemy air invasion."

Refreshments were served by a committee of Fairfield area women including Mrs. Robert Wills, Mrs. Ira Henderson and Mrs. J. Warren Martin.

committed suicide. Some line passageways where they were placed in an effort to keep the Marines from determining the extent of Japanese casualties. Some wounded were apparently simply abandoned to die. Some are found in the bunks carved in the sides of the caves.

Many Japanese were buried in mass graves after the Marines seized the island. Bodies later were taken from some of the caves and buried. But many caves—including the mysterious general's cave—were never located, or even suspected.

Some of the caves extend seven levels down.

Bieber's studies of the caves have become more or less official.

He has had to use oxygen on one of his deep explorations. The caves are oppressively hot and sulphur fumes fill many.

Preserved By Fumes

The intense heat and sulphur fumes may have preserved some bodies.

When the island fell, Marines sealed off hundreds of caves.

Erosion and earthquakes reopen the passages. Blasting to seal one entrance may reopen others. And the depths of many of the caves have never been reached. One blast recently set off a chain reaction and explosions continued for hours.

Bieber found one laboratory which apparently had been scorched by a flamethrower. The doctor was there with a blackened stethoscope and wristwatch. Burned vials, medicines and microscopes lined the cave wall.
